Upon receipt of online enrolments, students will be automatically linked to a non-invasive language, literacy and numeracy assessment. This is designed to assess the student's current level of language, literacy and numeracy to enable our trainers to provide specific support within their capabilities. Upon receipt of the student's enrolment, RudTek will work with the student and complete an enrolment plan to ensure that the program is suitable for the student and appropriate and supports their progression through the qualification or unit of competency.

In the case of traineeships and apprenticeships, the delivery arrangements and training locations will be negotiated between RudTek, the student and their employer and detailed in a training plan signed by all parties.

For those students completing their qualification via traineeship or apprenticeship arrangements, a training record book will also be issued. The training record book is a record of workplace tasks completed by the student during the normal course of their duties and verified by their employer. It is a requirement that all trainees and apprentices complete a training record and that this is reviewed by RudTek at three monthly intervals.

The USI is a government initiative ensuring that each person who participates in Vocational Education & Training has a unique student identifying number that will follow them for a life of learning no matter where they are in Australia.

DELETED/SUPERSEDED TRAINING PRODUCTS

To ensure Australia's vocational education and training system operates in accordance with current industry practices and to produce work ready graduates, training packages, including the qualifications and units of competency, are regularly reviewed and either replaced, superseded or deleted from the national register (www.training.gov.au).

The following arrangements will apply to all current enrolments in the event that a qualification or unit of competency is superseded (these arrangements do not apply to superseded units of competency that continue to appear as an elective option in a current qualification):

Units of competency

- ✓ Where a unit of competency is superseded, no further enrolments in that unit of competency will be accepted on or after the date that the unit of competency was listed on the national register. All current students will be offered transition to the new unit of competency or completion of the superseded unit of competency, provided the unit of competency is completed within twelve months. Existing study and assessment will be recognised
- ✓ Where a unit of competency is deleted from the national register, all current students will be required to complete their training within twelve months of the new unit being listed as deleted on the national register.

Qualifications

- ✓ Where a qualification is superseded, all current students will be offered the opportunity to complete the existing qualification provided it is completed within twelve (12) months of the date of it being superseded on the national register or transitioning to the new qualification. Existing study and assessment will be recognised and credit transfer applied where applicable.
- ✓ Where a qualification is deleted from the national register, all current students will be required to complete their training within eighteen (18 months) of the qualification being deleted from the national register.

In all cases, as soon as RudTek is advised of the deletion or replacement of a qualification or unit of competency, all currently enrolled students will be advised in writing within seven days of the changes being made publicly available on the national register.

PLAGIARISM

The course assessment is designed to allow students to express their own understanding of the relevant assessments. In order to be marked as “Competent” on a piece of assessment, a student must be able to demonstrate their own understanding of the topic by presenting the assessment in their own words and incorporating their own ideas.

Copying sentences and blocks of text directly from readings, textbooks, or other documents does not demonstrate a student’s own understanding of the topic. Such practices will be regarded as plagiarism unless the source is appropriately acknowledged.

Copying the work of another student and collaborating with another student during the completion of assessment also does not demonstrate a student’s own understanding of the topic. Students are not to submit assessment that is the same as another student’s (past or present) or has been developed in collaboration with another student. Such occurrences will be regarded as copying.

Students who are unable to appropriately demonstrate their own understanding of a topic will be marked “Not Yet Competent” and will be required to re-submit the assessment. RudTek may also investigate the matter further which may include a review of all assessments submitted by the student or students.

Students will be notified in writing of the outcome of any review and, if plagiarism or copying is evident, will be required to re-submit assessments. A repeat occurrence of plagiarism or copying may lead to the student’s enrolment in the course being cancelled. All instances of plagiarism or copying will be resolved to RudTek’s satisfaction.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

There is always the potential for accidents and injury when attending training, so there is a need to be aware of the need for taking precaution to avoid them. The most serious is in relation to emergency evacuation in the event of fire or other hazards. The trainer will advise students of the evacuation procedures in case of an emergency (if training conducted offsite).

All safety precautions are undertaken by RudTek, and should a safety incident occur, students will be provided with an Incident Report to document the incident and its outcomes.

COMPLAINTS POLICY

All students have the right to submit a complaint with regard to any of the products or services provided by RudTek, including its trainers and assessors, or its third parties, preferably in writing. Complaints are welcomed as a means of ensuring that we overcome any issues before they manifest and have the opportunity to continuously improve the operation and delivery of our training programs.

1. A complaint may be lodged in person or in writing with RudTek, who will conduct an investigation, assess the situation and take appropriate action.
2. All complaints should be raised/submitted as soon as is practicable after the event.
3. Upon receipt of a complaint, RudTek will ensure that it is acknowledged in writing within forty-eight (48) hours via the email address provided by the student on their enrolment form.
4. The Managing Director of RudTek will commence an investigation within seven (7) days of receiving the complaint at which point, the student making the complaint may be requested to attend an interview to gather further information. Students may bring a support person to the interview if needed.

5. Following the interview with the complainant, the Managing Director will conduct interviews with anyone else involved in the complaint to ensure all sides of the story are heard. It is expected that all interviews will be conducted within fourteen (14) days.
6. Within seven (7) days of completing the necessary interviews and completion of the investigation, the Managing Director will make a determination and advise the complainant.
7. Where a complainant is dissatisfied with the determination of the Managing Director, the complainant may exercise their right to contact the VET regulator, the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) via their website at <https://www.asqa.gov.au/complaints>.

APPEALS POLICY

RudTek will accept appeals against any decisions made by RudTek or on behalf of RudTek including any decisions made by third parties and our trainers and assessors. This includes appeals against result of assessment. Should a student wish to submit an appeal, the following policy applies:

1. All appeals against decisions must be submitted in writing to the Managing Director of RudTek, including appeals against assessment results, within seven (7) days of the decision being made
2. All appeals must include as much detail as possible to enable a thorough investigation to be undertaken.
3. Upon receipt of an appeal, RudTek will ensure that it is acknowledged in writing within forty-eight (48) hours via the email address provided by the student on their enrolment form.
4. The Managing Director of RudTek will commence an investigation within seven (7) days of receiving the appeal at which point, the individual submitting the appeal may be requested to attend an interview to gather further information. Students may bring a support person to the interview if needed.
5. In the case of an appeal against an assessment decision, the student may be requested to bring additional evidence to support their case.
6. Within seven (7) days of completing the interview with the appellant and completion of the investigation, the Managing Director will make a determine and advise the appellant.
7. In the case of an appeal against an assessment result, if the appeal is upheld, the original assessment result may be overturned. Where the appeal is refused, the student will be offered the opportunity to be reassessed at no cost, by a different assessor.
8. In the case of appeals against decisions made by RudTek, if the appeal is upheld, the original decision may be overturned. In this case, RudTek will revisit the reason for the decision and advise all individuals, clients and employer/industry organisations impacted by the decision. If the appeal is refused, the appellant may exercise their right to contact the VET regulator, the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) via their website at <https://www.asqa.gov.au/complaints>.

RECOGNITION

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

RPL is the formal acknowledgement of a person's competencies; regardless of how, when or where the learning occurred (eg formal or information training and education, work and/or life experience). It is an integral component of the vocational education and training system in Australia and is also referred to by a number of other terms, such as recognition of current competencies. See also Mutual Recognition.

An application can be made for RPL when the student believes that they have already attained the necessary skills and competencies elsewhere (work, other study, life experience, etc.).

A comprehensive RPL Information Kit is available from RudTek upon request. Should a student feel they have the skills, knowledge or experience required to apply for RPL, they will be able to have an interview with an Assessor from RudTek who will assist them with their application. They will be required to provide documentation to support their application. The application will be processed and an assessment made as to the success or otherwise of the application. The student will be notified in writing of the result. Should the application be successful, the results will be recorded on the students Academic Statement.

ASSESSMENT POLICY

RudTek has an assessment policy, which is available for the information of students. This assessment policy ensures that students and trainers/assessors work together to achieve the training program aims. The following principles will be applied by RudTek to all assessment:-

- ✔ Validity – assessments that are appropriate to the matter being assessed, meeting the standards from the training package as well as industry requirements.
- ✔ Reliability – ensuring that assessments are conducted consistently with different groups or individuals to reflect a common standard.
- ✔ Flexibility – adjustments are allowed, taking into account the varying situations and circumstances of participants, but maintaining a consistent standard.
- ✔ Fairness – making allowances to ensure assessment is equitable and overcoming any disadvantage participants might have in relation to disabilities, language and literacy or capacity to apply what they are learning.
- ✔ Sufficiency – sufficient evidence is collected to enable a sound assessment decision to be made.

Our policy also ensures that students are provided with clear, concise directions for assessment and recording of results.

CREDIT TRANSFER

Where a student has completed a unit of competency that bears the same code of a unit of competency in which they are enrolled, credit transfer may be applied. Student should note that a certified copy of a Statement of Attainment or Statement of Results/Academic Transcript must be supplied in order to be awarded credit transfer.

COMPETENCY BASED TRAINING (CBT)

To be eligible to pass a qualification, students must satisfactorily complete all the requirements of the unit of competency within a given time. This means that students will be assessed in terms of being able to do the job to industry standards.

CBT is an approach to vocational education and training that places emphasis on what a person can do in the workplace as a result of completing a program of training. Ideally, progress within a competency-based training program is not based on time.

CBT, focuses on what a student can do as a result of participating in training. At the end of training, a student needs to be able to demonstrate their competency in a new skill.

There will also be situations where a student doesn't need to do any training before they can demonstrate their competency. They may have learnt how to do the task in any other number of ways. What matters is that they can demonstrate their competency, not that they have taken part in training.

Under CBT, there are competency standards. The concept of competency focuses on what is expected of an employee in the workplace rather than on the learning process, and embodies the ability to transfer and apply skills and knowledge to new situations and environments. Competency is a broad concept that includes all aspects of work performance and not only narrow task skills. Each unit of competency describes the work performed in the workplace.

WHAT IS A UNIT OF COMPETENCY

A unit of competency is like a subject or unit of study. It is made up of elements, performance criteria, skills and knowledge that must be demonstrated by a student through an assessment process.

HOW WILL I BE ASSESSED

In most cases, assessment consists of written theory assessments and the practical demonstration of skills (either in the workplace or a simulated environment) supported by third party verification (not in all cases). All assessment is set out in the overview to each unit of competency or cluster of units of competency, which is provided to students at the commencement of each training session or delivery of resources. Once this all assessment tasks have been successfully completed, students will receive a result.

Where a student is deemed not yet competent for a unit of competency, the student will be given two further opportunities to be reassessed before they will need to re-enrol and complete the unit. A cost to re-enrol may apply in certain circumstances. Where a fee is applicable, this will be advised prior to the student's re-enrolment.

ASSESSMENT SUBMISSION

All assessments must have a fully completed assessment cover sheet when submitted. The cover sheets are attached to the assessment.

RESULTS

Assessments will be marked 'satisfactory' or 'not satisfactory' until all assessment tasks for a unit of competency have been successfully completed. Once all assessment tasks have been successfully completed, a competent result will be issued.

If a student fails to achieve the required standard of performance, a result of 'not yet competent' will be awarded. A not yet competent result does not mean that a student has failed, but simply that there are outstanding knowledge or skills to be confirmed. All students will receive a total of three opportunities to be assessed.

ISSUANCE OF QUALIFICATIONS AND STATEMENTS OF ATTAINMENT

A qualification is issued when a student successfully completes all assessment requirements for all units of competency from within a qualification. A Statement of Attainment is issued where a student successfully completes all assessment requirements for an individual unit/s of competency or withdraws from/cancels their training in a qualification.

Qualifications issued by RudTek meet the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF). Rudtek will issue qualifications and Statements of Attainment within thirty (30) days of successful completion of all required training and assessment.

For full fee paying students and where the fees have not been paid by the employer, Rudtek will withhold the issuance of qualifications or Statements of Attainment where fees remain outstanding.

RECORDS MANAGEMENT

RudTek is committed to keeping accurate and confidential records in relation to its students and the activities conducted on their behalf. All records are maintained through a combination of manual and computer-based systems designed to ensure it can provide detailed and timely information to its students.

No information provided to RudTek as part of the enrolment process is used for any other purpose than as a record of the Student for the duration of their chosen course or as required by ASQA or other Government agencies for reporting and audit purposes only.

All records associated with student results are kept for a period of thirty (30) years from the date of their issue. These records are backed up electronically and are kept in an offsite location. Individual assessment records are retained until the period for appeal against assessment results has lapsed, i.e. seven (7) days.
